A Message From the Board Chairman

Central to Riverside’s mission is a fundamental truth: health care when done well revolves around medicine and people. This core belief guides our work at Riverside Health and at the Riverside Foundation, and it is through the generosity of donors like you that hope, healing and compassion reach those who need them most.

Each gift given this year brought comfort to families facing uncertainty, ensured patients could access advanced care close to home and provided clinicians with the resources necessary to deliver care and save lives. These outcomes are possible because of your commitment, and we are sincerely grateful.

With your support, the Foundation advanced critical programs, innovative treatments and compassionate services that extend far beyond Riverside and into our community. The impact of these investments cannot be measured by dollars alone, but by dignity preserved, reassurance provided and lives improved.

I am continually inspired by the generosity of our donors. Your belief in our mission reflects a shared promise that every individual who walks through our doors will be met with care, respect and hope, regardless of circumstance.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, thank you for standing with us. Together, we will continue to make a meaningful and lasting difference in the lives of those we serve.

With heartfelt thanks,

James C. Burnett, Chairman

A Note From the Chief Philanthropy Officer

Community is at the heart of everything we do, and in 2025, you reminded us just how powerful that concept truly is.

Every day in our health system, real lives are improved, and hope shows up when it is needed most. Behind every patient cared for, every family comforted and every life changed, there is generosity. Your generosity. Through your support of the Riverside Foundation, compassion becomes action and kindness becomes healing.

Your generosity is more than a gift; it is a promise to our communities that better health is possible. It funds essential programs and innovative solutions. And it brings world-class care to our neighbors in a setting that is conveniently close to home. Your gifts make that possible with one common theme: to care for our patients as we would care for those we love.

What inspires me most is why you give. You give because Riverside is part of your story. It is where children are born, loved ones are healed and moments of fear are met with hope. Your belief in our mission strengthens our ability to serve today and prepares us for the needs of tomorrow.

I am deeply grateful to our donors, volunteers, community partners and team members who make this work possible. It is a privilege to serve a community that leads with generosity, compassion and trust.

On behalf of the Foundation team, we offer you this Remarkable report of the advances made in 2025. We are proud of the impact that the Neurosciences campaign, now closed, is having on our community, and we can't wait for you to read about our newest Riverside Smithfield Hospital medical complex serving Smithfield, Isle of Wight, Surry and the surrounding counties.

LEAPING FORWARD IN Neurosciences

The Riverside Foundation's first comprehensive campaign focused on elevating and accelerating Riverside's existing world-class Neurosciences program to include memory care, mental health and recovery, stroke, brain and spine care, movement disorders and so much more.

More than a year after the campaign's successful completion, donor support continues to drive meaningful growth. Recent donor-funded expansions in Neurosciences at Riverside include:

- Leading-edge treatment of inoperable brain tumors and radiation necrosis took a leap forward at Riverside Regional Medical Center in 2025 with the donor-funded purchase of Laser Interstitial Thermal Therapy (LITT) equipment. LITT is a minimally invasive neurosurgical procedure that uses real-time MRI-guided laser energy to precisely target and destroy abnormal brain tissue while protecting surrounding healthy brain tissue. LITT offers patients with deep-seated or inoperable brain tumors and radiation necrosis a less invasive alternative than open surgery and a shorter recovery time.

Balance Tutor is a computer-aided treadmill designed to simulate walking on uneven terrain. It enables patients with balance impairments due to stroke or neurodegenerative disease to safely practice adapting to changing ground conditions. Rather than relying solely on verbal cues from a therapist, patients physically feel when and how adjustments are needed, allowing them to self-correct and build lasting, whole-body motor memory. The treadmill's computer continuously analyzes each patient's movement, identifies the most challenging aspects of gait and balance, and targets those areas for focused rehabilitation. A secure safety halter prevents falls, protecting both patients and clinical staff.

At Riverside Mental Health and Recovery Center (RMHRC), campaign funding supports patient assistance and staffing. "Donor contributions allow us to care for the patient who is in front of us. Whether they walk in our front door and need a sandwich, or they are in our emergency department, or even on our inpatient unit and are struggling to find an appropriate place for discharge," said Stacey Johnson, RMHRC President.

More than 1,600 patients each year depend on Riverside to prevent, treat and recover from strokes. The Frank Sanderson, M.D., Comprehensive Stroke and Neurovascular Center hosted a Stroke Symposium for providers to strengthen stroke awareness and response across the health system. The symposium brought all specialties together to focus on the ever-evolving best practices in stroke care.

Balance Tutor treadmill and harness

Funding from the Neurosciences campaign enabled the purchase of game-changing radiofrequency ablation (RFA) equipment for the treatment of unresolved chronic neck and back pain. The technology uses radiofrequency energy to heat and destroy abnormal tissue. The Peninsula Surgery Center, located on Riverside's Newport News campus, employs RFA to block pain signals from being transmitted from the back to the brain. This life-altering technology gives patients with long-term pain in the neck, lower back or arthritic joints new hope for a better quality of life.

After an illness or injury that affects mobility, Riverside patients use a new technology called ZeroG to safely practice walking, balance, sit-to-stand movements and even stairs. The halter, hung from a track on the ceiling, provides dynamic body-weight support and allows movement in any direction, thus mimicking the real life conditions in which patients move about.

Stroke survivor Will Davenport was intimidated at first to don the halter, but after watching team members try it out, he decided "to go all out. I can't hurt myself. I won't fall." After pushing himself to his limit, he was proud to explain that the ZeroG has given him back hope. "And that's worth more than anything. The hospital, the care team, this equipment, they help give you hope again. And I'm so grateful for it."

Dr. William McAllister

Dr. William McAllister is the Chief of Neurosciences for Riverside Health and a physician leader for philanthropy for the Riverside Foundation. His visionary leadership of the Neurosciences program has helped to position Riverside at the forefront of care in the region. Now he is furthering that impact with his generous personal giving in support of The Campaign for Neurosciences. Reflecting on his reason for giving, he shared, "I've seen how the Campaign has moved Riverside forward in caring for our patients, and as a provider it is incredibly meaningful to offer expanded services to those I care for every day. Philanthropy has made all the difference in quality of life for these patients."

2025 PROVIDER
OF THE YEAR

David F. Jones, M.D.

The Riverside Foundation proudly recognizes a physician whose leadership, compassion and commitment to community care have shaped the lives of countless patients and families.

A board-certified specialist in internal medicine, pulmonary disease and critical care, Dr. Jones has devoted more than 30 years to serving patients on the Eastern Shore of Virginia. After completing medical school at the University of Virginia, followed by residency and fellowship training at Wake Forest University, he chose to return to his native Eastern Shore, bringing with him not only exceptional medical expertise, but a profound understanding of the people and the place he has always called home.

Beyond his clinical practice, Dr. Jones serves as Chief Medical Officer of Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital (RSMH) and is deeply committed to advancing health care access and outcomes in his community. Nick Chuquín, former President of RSMH, worked closely with Dr. Jones for years and witnessed firsthand his “deep connection to the community, to family, to neighbors, to the people he grew up with. David drives the quality of care, patient experience and provider recruitment efforts for Riverside on the Shore.”

He has also earned the admiration of his peers, who elected him to serve as President of the Riverside Medical Group Board. Dr. Mike Dacey says, “the medical group will soon surpass 1,000 providers, and when you have the confidence of a group that large, that’s saying something. David absolutely has the confidence of this varied and talented group of primary care and specialty providers.” He champions excellence across the health system and guides Riverside’s mission with integrity, wisdom and a collaborative spirit.

Together with his wife Traci, Dr. Jones is also a steadfast supporter of Riverside Foundation—giving back because he sees firsthand how philanthropy transforms care. Whether through new equipment, expanded access or enhanced services, he witnesses the lasting impact that generosity creates for patients and families.

Dr. Jones is a true example of leadership grounded in both heart and skill. His life’s work reflects not only a commitment to clinical excellence but a calling to serve Riverside Health and the community he proudly calls home.

2025 CITIZEN OF THE YEAR

Alan Witt

A champion of progress across the Peninsula and the Commonwealth, Alan Witt's leadership has left a lasting imprint on business, education and health care. His legacy includes more than 20 years of dedicated service on the Riverside Health Board, including 16 years as Chair.

Under his guidance, Riverside Health expanded its footprint and mission including the construction of Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital in Onancock and the development of Riverside Doctors' Hospital Williamsburg. He also played a key role in establishing RHS MedInsur, ensuring comprehensive protection for health care professionals, and continues to serve on its board.

According to Dr. Mike Dacey, "Alan really cares about the community and knew that growth for Riverside was essential. He had a vision for growing Riverside, and thousands of patients are better off because of it. Alan understands the importance of governance and how it differs from management. He gave us the leeway to implement his vision in a way that we thought would put us in the best position to succeed."

Newport News Sheriff Gabe Morgan, Sr. said, "Alan always emphasizes that collaboration is the key. He wants to hear others' voices and then use that input to make sure they feel seen and heard. This celebration is but a small token for us to say, 'Alan, we thank you for all that you have done for us.'"

Guided by a deep belief in giving back, Alan and his wife Debbie have been steadfast supporters of philanthropy. Their shared commitment helped Riverside Foundation grow in reach and impact—ensuring that care, innovation and community support extend far beyond hospital walls.

Alan's broader record of public service includes chairing and serving on numerous state and regional boards, guiding institutions like Christopher Newport University, TowneBank, the Virginia Chamber of Commerce and countless civic and economic development organizations. His tireless advocacy has helped communities flourish—from education and enterprise to infrastructure and health care.

Through every role, Alan has led with integrity, humility and a deep sense of purpose. His enduring dedication to the betterment of others reflects the very best of what it means to be a Riverside Foundation Citizen of the Year.

HOSPICE AND PALLIATIVE CARE Honor Life at Every Stage

For patients facing debilitating or life-limiting illness, the definition of compassion expands to include guidance, reassurance and support for patients and their family. Thanks to a thoughtful gift from Donna and Jim Thornton, Riverside's palliative care team is strengthened by the services of a social worker who ensures families receive the wraparound care they need.

The social worker helps families navigate the emotional, social and practical challenges that accompany serious illness by offering counseling, facilitating family conversations and connecting families with community resources.

The Thorntons made their gift in grateful recognition of the compassionate care they experienced through Dr. Teresa McConaughy and the palliative care team.

As health care continues to evolve, evidence guides future processes. One such process is a HOPE assessment that focuses on frequent and continuing assessments for more nuanced care of hospice patients. The donor-funded software dedicated to training and facilitating the HOPE assessment gives "the best tools to give the best care," according to Todd Pecaro, Riverside's Executive Director of Home Health and Hospice. Additionally, the software is dynamic, ensuring that team members are being given the very latest guidance in real time as education and assessment tools continue to evolve.

Matt and Jenny Swem

The Riverside Foundation recently had the honor of facilitating a deeply meaningful wedding for a hospice patient whose final wish was to marry her partner surrounded by love and dignity. Jenny Lapekas entered hospice care in Williamsburg in September 2025. She and her beloved Matt Swem had hoped to marry, but her illness took a turn for the worse, and she was too ill for a ceremony at a church or courthouse.

Thanks to the generosity of donors, patient assistance funds provided a cake and flowers, and a Riverside volunteer chaplain officiated the wedding in Jenny and Matt's home. Donor support transformed the intimate ceremony into a time of celebration, tender moments and quiet joy, allowing the couple to focus on what mattered most – their commitment to one another.

Matt thanked the Foundation for making this dream come true, saying, "I don't think there will ever be adequate words to express how thankful I am to all of you for your help, support and enthusiasm for the wedding. With Jenny's state, I was so fearful that this thing I wanted so badly would never happen. I think the thing that touched me the most was seeing all of you surround Jenny and lift her up and tell her how beautiful she looked."

This extraordinary moment reflects the heart of hospice where, even at the end of life, there is room for love, humanity and unforgettable moments of grace.

Hunt and Katherine Whitbeck view a demonstration of the AccuVein device.

CANCER PREVENTION AND Early Detection

From 1999 to 2016 and from New York to Virginia, Hunt Whitbeck used every available tool to fight prostate cancer. Despite continuing treatments, by 2016, the cancer had spread, and he required bi-weekly blood transfusions to survive. Just as Hospice discussions began, Dr. John F. Miller at Peninsula Cancer Institute initiated an experimental treatment that worked - bringing Hunt's PSA to zero, where it has remained.

Hunt says, "Dr. Miller's thoughtful, cheerful manner and medical expertise has made my difficult journey upbeat and successful."

Inspired by Dr. Miller's extraordinary care, Hunt and his wife, Katherine, donated funding for a device that allows the care team to better visualize veins, improve needle placement and enhance patient comfort. Patients who have the benefit of the AccuVein device's needle placement report more satisfaction with their care.

This gift and earlier gifts celebrate Dr. Miller's service to his patients. Hunt stated, "we have and will continue to support the Foundation in appreciation for the exceptional care given to me by Dr. Miller and his remarkable staff."

Robotic microscope with telepathology capability

Riverside Health is committed to providing local access to high-quality health care. In our rural community hospitals, telepathology plays a critical role in delivering timely diagnostic results.

A new, donor-funded, high-resolution robotic microscope with telepathology capability – now available in three of our four community hospitals - allows pathologists in Newport News to securely view, share and interpret pathology slides over the internet. Slides are scanned on site and transmitted to Riverside Regional Medical Center pathologists using Microsoft Teams.

For Riverside's smaller hospitals, this added capability allows pathologists to examine tissue samples remotely and to consult with other experts without delay. Faster diagnoses and shorter wait times to treatment provide meaningful relief during an already vulnerable and often anxious time for patients – even reducing the process by a few days can make a significant difference.

Donor Patti St. Clair has devoted much of her focus and her generosity on the impact of early detection and prevention of breast cancer. Her Patricia R. St. Clair Program for Cancer Genetics and Prevention is a visionary program to offer risk assessment and further evaluation for women at high risk. Since its inception in 2024, the program offered a risk assessment tool to more than 24,000 women of whom more than 2,700 were offered genetic counseling at no cost. 695 of those women went on to have genetic testing, and 111 women were referred to an oncologist to begin their care journey.

Patti's innovative program has been strengthened by the generous support of the Helen Bell Foundation, made possible through a valued partnership with Riverside otolaryngologist Dr. Catherine Lintzenich.

EDUCATION SUPPORTS the Work of Tomorrow

A proud 1969 alumna of Riverside's School of Nursing, Debbie Porten Ciani established the Ciani Family Annual Nursing Scholarship to support and encourage the next generation of nurses. Created from deep gratitude, the scholarship provides annual assistance to a nursing student with demonstrated financial need.

Originally from Central New York, Debbie came to Virginia to attend Riverside's Nursing Program, which she credits as the foundation of her 46-year nursing career, including many years as a Diabetes Educator. After graduation, she returned to New York, where she married and began raising her family. Later, Debbie married Dr. Peter Ciani, and together they built a life in Washington State, raising four sons.

"Riverside was my foundation for the only vocation I ever considered. I was always so proud of being a nurse," Debbie shares. This scholarship reflects her enduring appreciation for her Riverside education and her desire to help future nurses thrive, ensuring her legacy of compassion and care continues.

The new Riverside Smithfield Hospital

ADVANCED CARE Meets Compassion

Just a few days into 2026, the work of decades of planning and construction came to fruition with the opening of Riverside Smithfield Hospital (RSH). The new-from-the-ground-up medical campus is a major step forward in Riverside's vision of improving access to high-quality services for the Isle of Wight, Smithfield, Surry and surrounding counties.

Enthusiasm from the community for the new campus has been evident. Donors have come forward to support the project and to share their excitement for the future of local health care.

Read on for more information about RSH and the opening celebration events attended by our beloved supporters.

Care Is Here BECAUSE COMMUNITY MADE IT POSSIBLE

Ribbon-cutting event on December 4, 2025

On January 6, 2026 Riverside Smithfield Hospital officially opened its doors, bringing high-quality, advanced health care to Isle of Wight County and the surrounding community—close to home, when it matters most.

For years, Riverside Health served this area through outpatient and limited-service settings. While those efforts met critical needs, the absence of a full-service hospital created barriers to comprehensive, coordinated care. Today, that barrier is gone.

Riverside Smithfield Hospital stands as a testament to what is possible when a community comes together with a shared vision for better health.

A Hospital Built for Today and Tomorrow

Riverside Smithfield Hospital was designed with the future of health care in mind. This state-of-the-art facility expands access to essential services, integrates advanced technology and creates an environment centered on patient experience, safety and dignity.

From emergency care to inpatient services and advanced diagnostics, the hospital is already making a meaningful difference for patients and families across the surrounding communities.

Opening the hospital was a milestone made possible in part by the overwhelming support of the community. So many dedicated people came together to bring the dream to fruition. We encourage you to enjoy their stories in the Donors Who Inspire Us pages to come (pages 28-33).

Charitable investment allows us to go beyond what traditional funding can support—enhancing services, accelerating innovation and addressing health disparities. Philanthropy started the ball rolling and will continue to play a vital role in ensuring Riverside Smithfield Hospital can deliver exceptional care and evolve to meet the growing and changing needs of our community well into the future.

Donates $500,000 to Support Riverside Smithfield Hospital

Community support for the new Riverside Smithfield Hospital (RSH) hospital has been strong and inspiring, highlighted by a transformational philanthropic gift from Smithfield Foods. This investment addresses a critical regional need by helping ensure access to full-service, inpatient hospital care for Isle of Wight County.

"Access to quality health care is essential to a thriving community," said Shane Smith, president and CEO of Smithfield Foods. "Supporting Riverside Smithfield Hospital reflects our company's commitment to the health and well-being of our employees, our neighbors and the area we've called home for nearly a century."

"This is more than a gift—it's a statement of belief in the people who live here," said Kristen Witt, Chief Philanthropy Officer of the Riverside Foundation. "Thanks to Smithfield Foods, we can expand access to high-quality health care services locally and ensure no one has to travel out of our area to get the care they need."

Together, Smithfield Foods and Riverside Health are investing in a healthier, more resilient future for Isle of Wight County and the surrounding communities.

DONORS WHO INSPIRE US

Before Dr. Justin Billings wore a white coat, he wore a paramedic's uniform. While still in college in Richmond, Virginia, he served as a paramedic on the front lines of emergency response. He learned to think quickly, act decisively and bring calm to moments of chaos. His leadership as a first responder – and later as a mentor training the next generations of providers - inspired him to pursue medical school.

Dr. Justin Billings and Mrs. Bailey Billings

Dr. Billings is now the inaugural Chief Medical Officer at the new RSH. His wife, Bailey, is an emergency room nurse at Riverside Regional Medical Center, continuing their shared dedication to emergency care.

With their donation, they chose to direct their support to the EMS lounge at RSH – a meaningful tribute to the area's first responders who extend critical care into living rooms, along highways and at the most urgent moments in people's lives.

Dr. Melvin Blackwell, Mrs. Jackie Blackwell and their family made a generous commitment to support Riverside Smithfield Hospital — a reflection of their deep love for their community and their enduring spirit of service.

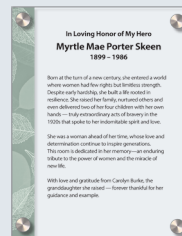

Dr. Blackwell serves as Senior Pastor of Little Zion Baptist Church in Smithfield, where faith and compassion are at the heart of his ministry. Their support will be recognized outside the hospital's Chapel. The Chapel provides comfort, prayer and peace during life's most tender moments.

In a touching extension of their shared mission, Little Zion Baptist Church also made a gift to support RSH patients and their loved ones and will be recognized outside the Chapel as well.

As the construction partner for RSH, Brasfield & Gorrie made a gift to recognize the commitment, professionalism and project management of Russell Parrish, Brian Shotwell and George Weidinger, leaders on the construction team. Their steady guidance kept a complex, multi-year project on track and facilitated communication across teams and stakeholders. Together with the dedicated Riverside Health team, Brasfield & Gorrie was honored to play a part in building a healthier, more resilient future for Isle of Wight and the surrounding counties.

In honor of her grandmother, who raised her with unwavering love, Carolyn Burke made a generous gift to RSH. Her strong and practical grandmother, born in 1899, brought her children into the world on a kitchen table. Inspired by her grandmother's legacy of bravery and resilience, Carolyn's gift supports the naming of a future birthing room, ensuring that families have access to safe and meaningful beginnings for generations to come.

In tribute to her parents, Valerie Butler, Advisory Board Chair for RSH, made a meaningful gift to name an RSH flagpole in their honor—an enduring symbol of family, service and remembrance. “To many of us who call the Smithfield area home, there is no more important civic need than a bona-fide contemporary hospital presence. With an overwhelming outpouring of support from our community I, and so many others, are delighted with the plans to build this hospital, to provide access that can and will change the course of people's lives.”

Valerie Butler, Advisory Board Chair for RSH

Meredith Elliott has demonstrated a deep commitment to RSH through her service and her generosity. She serves as a cabinet member for The Campaign for Riverside Smithfield Hospital and a member of the organizing committee for RSH's 2026 Close to Home Gala. She and her husband, Dr. Brent Elliott, made a personal gift to RSH in support of local access to health care for her beloved hometown.

Meredith Elliott

“Supporting the new hospital was an easy decision for us. For as long as I can remember, access to emergency care meant a 30-minute drive on a good day. To know that families here will have world-class care close to home feels monumental. Being part of a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to transform the future of my hometown is something we couldn't pass up,” said Meredith.

Mark and JoAnn Hall honored the memory of Mark's mother through a thoughtful gift naming the outdoor dining area at RSH, ensuring her legacy lives on in a place of comfort and togetherness. “Having a hospital right in our community is a dream come true for us. We never thought local access to medical care would happen in our lifetimes, and each time we drive past the new campus we are grateful for all the hard work that went into making it a reality. We are also thankful for the opportunity to memorialize Mark's mom who recently passed away. She would have loved and supported the hospital as well as the Riverside Foundation.”

Haley Hall, Frank Hall and JoAnn and Mark Hall

More than 60 years ago, Dr. Barney Jamison arrived in Isle of Wight from Northern Ireland and quickly became instrumental in ensuring residents had local access to high-quality health care. Often quoted as saying, “providing care to my patients is my first love,” Dr. Jamison devoted his career to serving others with compassion and excellence. The Jamison-Longford Medical Office Building on the RSH campus was named for Dr. Jamison through a generous gift from the Luter Family several years ago.

Inspired by Riverside's investment in the expansion of health care services in the Smithfield area, and guided by deep love and admiration for his late wife, Estelle Jamison, Dr. Jamison made a gift in her memory, honoring her legacy and reflecting their shared dedication to caring for others.

As the President of the new Riverside Smithfield Hospital, Jessica Macalino has poured her soul into bringing the hospital to fruition. But she along with her husband, BJ, didn't stop there. They also made a gift in memory of her beloved grandmother who was cared for by the "amazing" cardiology and pulmonology teams at Riverside. Jessica's passion for saving lives is woven throughout her work to expand care to reach those who need it most.

Jessica Macalino,

Suffolk resident and retired Riverside Executive Vice President Caroline Martin and husband Brian were early and fierce advocates for expanding health care services into the Isle of Wight and Smithfield communities. With legendary foresight, Caroline spearheaded the efforts decades ago to acquire the property that would become the RSH campus.

Caroline and
Brian Martin

Caroline and Brian's generous contribution to the new hospital stands as a capstone to their long-standing advocacy of local and accessible health care. In a fitting tribute to Caroline's legacy and leadership, the Administration suite at the new hospital bears the Martin family name.

Randy and Alysia "Erin" Pack have long been dedicated champions of the Isle of Wight County community, proudly serving their hometown and working to enhance its quality of life. Erin extends that commitment through her role as an RSH Advisory Board member. Their support of RSH reflects their deeply held belief in leading by example.

Riverside was honored to care for John E. Smith and was also honored that his family chose Riverside to receive tribute gifts remembering his life and legacy. John's lifelong dedication to family, faith and community are reflected and magnified by the many memorial gifts received from his loved ones.

John Smith

The multigenerational Spady family of Isle of Wight County found deep meaning in making a gift in memory and in honor of their remarkable parents and grandparents, O.A. and Hazel Spady. With the arrival of a leading-edge hospital in their community, they saw an opportunity to celebrate a legacy of leadership, service and devotion to family.

The late O.A. Spady was a respected leader in both civic and business circles, generously giving his time and talent to strengthen the community he loved. His wife continues that tradition, balancing her commitment to volunteerism with an unwavering devotion to her family.

Grateful for the advanced care the new hospital will bring to the region, the family gift supports a dedicated Intensive Care Unit room for life's most critical moments.

Through their family's support of RSH, the Spadys' legacy of service will continue not only in memory, but in the lives touched within the ICU room that bears their honor for years to come.

From an early age, Nancy Tuck was part of the Riverside family. Her mother, Caroline Martin, is a now-retired former executive at Riverside. Nancy and her husband, Mark, found meaning in contributing to Riverside's expansion into their local community. They have a strong affection for Smithfield and are grateful to have an outstanding hospital so close to home.

Brian and Caroline Martin and Nancy Tuck

Their generous gift created a lasting tribute to Mark's mother, Phyllis Tuck Witt. "She was an exceptional woman, and we are proud to have her memorialized within an institution that embodies and upholds the values of quality and excellence," said Nancy.

With deep roots in Isle of Wight spanning generations, Richard Turner was raised with a strong sense of responsibility to give back to his community. When the need for a local hospital became clear, supporting this effort felt both personal and purposeful - an opportunity to help strengthen access to care close to home.

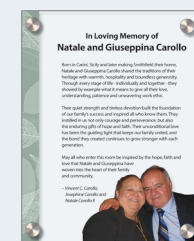

For Pam Turner, the decision to give was equally grounded in compassion and forward thinking. Recognizing that many individuals in the community lack adequate insurance or coverage for medical care, she and Richard were motivated by a shared desire to ensure that everyone who walks through Riverside's doors receives the care they need. Together, their support reflects a commitment to paying it forward and helping build a healthier future for their community.

Vincent and Josephine Carollo gave a firsthand account of why they chose to support Riverside Smithfield Hospital with a gift honoring Vincent's parents.

"When I was young, I was involved in a serious accident. Riverside's Dr. Glenn Shepard treated me, and I remain deeply grateful for his care. His reassurance to me and my parents that everything would be okay has stayed with me throughout my life.

Years later, my mother was injured in a severe car accident. She, too, was cared for with extraordinary skill and compassion by Dr. Shepard and Dr. Marshall Cross.

When the love of my life, my wife Josephine, was diagnosed with a critical illness requiring complex care and an organ transplant, Riverside was there for us once again. Twenty years later, she is still by my side and doing very well - all thanks to the exceptional care she received.

Recognition plaque

Giuseppina Carollo

Today, the physicians and care teams at Riverside continue to take wonderful care of my wife and our family. These experiences are deeply woven into our story. It is my hope that, through our family's support of Riverside Smithfield Hospital, I can pay forward our gratitude, and that someone else will experience the same compassion, healing and hope that we have.

Honoring my parents is deeply meaningful to me - they are my everything. My father is in his 80s, and I am incredibly fortunate to work alongside him every day. My mother has been gone over ten years, yet there isn't a day that passes without thinking of her. The values they instilled in our family - especially hope and faith - have guided me throughout my life. We have been truly blessed, and because of that, it is important to me to give back and to share what the Carollo family stands for."

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

on the Peninsula and Across the System

The young women of Williamsburg's Girl Scout Troop 1295 voted to donate a portion of their famous cookie sales to a worthy, local cause, choosing Riverside Regional Medical Center's Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU). Inspired to help newborns facing extra challenges, the Scouts' wanted to make a difference close to home.

Williamsburg Girl Scout Troop 1295 supports RRMCC's NICU.

Dr. John Alex, Medical Director of the Riverside Simulation Training Lab In Memory of Dr. Brandon Rogers invited the Scouts to a demonstration where NICU nurses showcased advanced manikins and incubators used to train NICU nurses to care for the smallest, most vulnerable patients. The Scouts listened attentively and asked thoughtful questions, clearly engaged by what they learned.

The Scouts' donation helps to take NICU care from good to great by supporting leading-edge technology and essential items like swings, pack n plays and car seats for underserved NICU families.

Across our region, Riverside's female leaders champion a clear and powerful vision: exceptional care for every patient, powered by innovation, compassion and community partnership. As leaders and volunteers devoted to our mission, these women redefine what it means to invest in health, by giving as well as by strengthening the systems that allow patients to heal and communities to thrive. Their leadership ensures that excellent care is not an aspiration but a daily standard.

When philanthropy fuels our hospitals, it empowers physicians and nurses with advanced technology, expands access to preventative services and accelerates progress in life-saving treatments. At Riverside donations directly sustain care for every person who walks through the doors. Community partnership is essential to expanding programs, modernizing facilities and delivering life-changing care across all the communities we serve.

Through targeted investments and a willingness to set an example, these leaders mobilize additional resources and inspire others to invest in the future of health care. Together, their generosity and advocacy ensure that Riverside can continue to grow, innovate and meet the evolving needs of our region.

John Randolph and Dr. Mark Ellis Memorial Dinner

For more than 30 years, Bobby and Patti Dwyer have led the John Randolph and Dr. Mark Ellis Memorial Dinner which raises vital support for cancer care in the Williamsburg area. Their dedication to philanthropy drives progress at Riverside and helps ensure access to comprehensive, groundbreaking care for those in need.

Eric Stone, Maynard Randolph and Patti and Bobby Dwyer

The heart of the evening was a beautifully prepared four-course gourmet meal created by local chefs. Each course was more than a culinary experience—it was a gift of time, talent and compassion, reflecting the shared commitment of our community to stand together in the fight against cancer.

Impacting Lives, Right Here at Home

Every dollar raised impacts this community, providing vital patient assistance, supporting research and clinical trials, easing financial burdens and removing barriers to care so individuals can focus on healing. Donations also sustain Dr. Ellis's visionary holistic care programs, which nurture not only the body, but the mind and spirit as well, bringing hope to today's patients and tomorrow's breakthroughs.

A Community United

This year's dinner was a powerful reminder of what we can accomplish when we come together with compassion and purpose. From the chefs who poured their hearts into every dish, to the sponsors, volunteers and guests who made the evening possible, each donor shared the journey and fueled hope. There is no greater privilege.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE on the Eastern Shore

Expanding Hospice Services

Hospice massage therapy offers gentle, compassionate touch that helps ease pain, reduce anxiety and encourage deep relaxation for patients facing serious illness.

Thanks to the generosity of Riverside Foundation donors, this healing service is now available on the Eastern Shore. For longtime community members Jody and Pat Hopkins, the impact has been deeply meaningful. Pat enjoys relief from severe muscle constriction for several days after each therapy. “It is a blessing,” Jody said. “Whoever made that donation, I thank them immensely.”

59th Annual Hospital Ball

The RSMH Auxiliary’s 59th annual Hospital Ball brought together generous sponsors, community partners and dedicated volunteers for an elegant, black tie evening in celebration of health care on Virginia’s Eastern Shore.

After expenses, the 2025 Ball poured $40,000 back into the Auxiliary to continue its long-standing, volunteer-driven mission to strengthen local health care and make a meaningful difference for the Shore community. Proceeds from the Ball and other Auxiliary events support team member continuing education, patient and family comfort items and vital equipment to continue to provide local access to health care.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE in Smithfield

Driven by her own experience with cancer, Norfolk artist and Paint Pink founder Kim Keene turned her diagnosis into hope. Through the nonprofit organization she founded, she assured patients facing cancer could receive meaningful financial assistance for services that insurance does not cover.

Paint Pink has made the first two significant gifts of a planned long-standing partnership with Riverside’s Tree of Life Cancer Care Fund to provide critical support to patients across all of Riverside’s regions. The partnership supports transportation to treatment, help with financial burdens at home, travel assistance and so much more thereby removing barriers to care so patients can focus on healing.

Because Kim grew up in Smithfield, Paint Pink’s second gift is dedicated to cancer patients in Isle of Wight, Smithfield, Surry and the surrounding area. Kim passed away in 2024, and Kim’s sister who now leads the organization proudly celebrated the naming of a room in the new Riverside Smithfield Hospital in Kim’s memory, forever honoring the generous spirit Kim infused into Paint Pink.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE on the Middle Peninsula

A new event on the Middle Peninsula brought together local businesses, community members and Riverside team members to demonstrate gratitude and support at a local level.

Riverside thanks the community members who dined at partner restaurants on the designated day with the goal of turning community spirit into real support for patients who need help from the Riverside Walter Reed Hospital (RWRH) Make a Difference Fund. A special shoutout to the partner restaurants for sharing the proceeds of that evening with Riverside: River Mutt Ice Cream, Scoot's BBQ, Porter's on Main, Olivia's in the Village and York River Oyster Company.

In addition, thanks to the generosity of local sponsors, RWRH team members were treated to a delicious, well-deserved breakfast catered by Scoot's BBQ to celebrate another year of dedication to the Middle Peninsula community.

INSIGHTS FOR Giving Society Investors

Society members enjoyed two exclusive virtual events this year that informed, inspired, and celebrated the impact of their generosity. Together, these experiences offered an insider view of Riverside Health's progress and a meaningful thank-you to the donors who make it possible.

New in 2025 for Founder's Society members was a late summer State of the System virtual event hosted by Dr. Mike Dacey, Riverside President and Chief Executive Officer.

Addressing questions top of mind for many attendees, Dr. Dacey shared an in-depth evaluation of the potential impact of federal funding pressures on Riverside along with the proactive planning underway to mitigate the challenges. Internal cost reduction initiatives have already helped position the organization for continued financial stability.

Founders also learned about Riverside's focus on expanding its provider and education pipeline to ensure a strong workforce with appropriate resources to care for our communities well into the future.

Despite pressures, Riverside Health remains firmly committed to team member retention, operational efficiency and fair compensation as cornerstone strategies for long-term success. Philanthropy is critical to Riverside's continued success in supporting priorities such as patients losing insurance coverage, the real and everyday pressures of social determinants of health, expanding the footprint of care through case management and advancing disease prevention through genetic counseling.

Riverside Uncorked is an annual exclusive virtual celebration to honor the Foundation's valued giving society members. Donors in the 1915 Club and Founder's Society are invited to relax at home and enjoy this insider event, complete with a complimentary wine package delivered to their door as a thank-you for their generosity.

This year's event was hosted by Kristen Witt, Chief Philanthropy Officer, and Dr. Thomas

Riverside Uncorked

Kayrouz, Chief Operations Officer with a tasting led by Michael Kimball, Virginia wine expert, who guided guests through three exceptional local selections.

Participants were encouraged to sample each wine, setting the stage for an evening of connection, discovery and gratitude. Beyond the tasting, Uncorked offered an insider recap of the past year's milestones across Riverside Health, including updates on Riverside Smithfield Hospital and the Riverside Mental Health and Recovery Center, an overview of upcoming federal funding challenges and a showcase of donor-funded technology.

Planned Gifts

CAN HELP YOU FULFILL YOUR DREAMS

Planning for the future can feel uncertain—especially balancing financial security with the desire to make a meaningful philanthropic impact today. Planned giving offers a thoughtful way to do both, allowing you to support the causes you care about while maintaining control of your assets during your lifetime, or the lifetime of those you love.

Curious how it works? It begins with reflecting on the legacy you hope to leave for future generations. From there, a trusted financial advisor can help you explore flexible and popular gift-planning options, including:

- Charitable bequests through your will or trust—designated as a specific dollar amount, a percentage of your estate, a portion of the residuary estate, real estate, publicly traded securities or through an heir.
- Beneficiary designations naming Riverside on a life insurance policy or retirement account, such as an Individual Retirement Account (IRA).
- Transfer of investment account balances to Riverside upon your passing.
- Charitable gift annuities, which can provide income while supporting our mission.

Legacy Donor Recognition

When you include Riverside in your legacy plans, you become a member of the Cornerstone Society—a special community of donors who choose to make a lasting difference. Your planned gift may honor your family, a loved one or a caregiver who made a meaningful impact on your life.

Cornerstone Society members are recognized in major publications and invited to exclusive events and programs. Donors whose cumulative legacy commitments total $10,000 or more are also inducted into our Founder's Society.

Leaving a legacy without any fanfare is a quiet act, one whose impact echoes across generations. A native of Wachapreague, Cynthia Crockett was a steady and respected presence in banking on Virginia's Eastern Shore as well as in her church and throughout the community she loved. Predeceased by her husband, Gene, she continued to embody generosity and foresight.

Through thoughtful estate gifts to several Shore organizations including Riverside, Cynthia ensured that her commitment to improving the quality of life for Shore residents would endure for years to come.

While we are grateful to recognize your generosity, the greatest reward is knowing that your legacy will help ensure the health, hope and well-being of our community for generations to come.

If you have already remembered Riverside in your estate plan, please let us know. For more information, please visit us online at bit.ly/RiversideFoundation-PlannedGiving or call us at (757) 234-8740.
